Barnes County Snapshot

A Warm Introduction to the Region

Located in southeastern North Dakota, Valley City is the largest of 23 cities in Barnes County. With a low cost of living, rich history, plentiful opportunities for recreation, and each small city featuring its own unique personality, Barnes County is the perfect place if you are looking to start your career, raise your family, or find a place to catch your breath. We firmly believe it's the people who make the community one of North Dakota's best places to live. Valley City offers countless opportunities to make a meaningful difference in the lives of your friends, family, and neighbors.

A Few of our Favorite Things

1. EASY LIVING

Traffic jams and long commutes? Not here. Easily break away from your day to catch your kids' sporting events or walk your dog on your lunch hour with plenty of time to recharge before heading back. This flexibility allows you to balance personal and professional responsibilities, enhancing your overall well-being.

2. LOW-COST LIVING

You're going to need a bigger piggy bank. Our low cost of living offers residents financial freedom and flexibility – and hopefully more adventures!

3. CHERISHED CONNECTIONS

Here, you are more than just a customer, colleague, or neighbor – you're a friend. Our love of Valley City is tied to individuals throughout the community who have made lasting memories and impressions in our lives.

4. PEACE OF MIND

Around here, parents worry less and kids play more. With crime rates well below the national average, Barnes County offers peace of mind for residents.

5. OUTDOOR LIVING

Location is everything. Our landscapes offer four-season recreation and the legendary North Dakota skies never disappoint, with spectacular sunsets and northern lights shows.

“The people in this community are what set us apart; they are the difference. Valley City is blessed with creative, engaged, energetic ‘doers’ and leaders from all aspects of employment and experience.”

– Paige Bjornson, Regional President of Dacotah Bank
